

AP English Literature and Composition Summer Reading 2020

It is a pleasure to welcome you to this intense yet rewarding experience.

Required Reading:

Jane Eyre, Charlotte Bronte

Heart of Darkness, Joseph Conrad

The Importance of Being Earnest, Oscar Wilde

Other Requirements:

 All assignments must be done individually; plagiarism will not be tolerated and will result in immediate disciplinary action and removal from class.

1. Begin an AP notebook. Make it large enough to hold material for the entire year. You will need several dividers, and some pockets for handouts.
2. Look up and type out the definitions for the literary terms inside this packet (there are approximately 49). You must learn them for a test in September.
3. Hand in the two essays and the literary terms the first day of class. If you do not have your summer packet completed in a polished and professional manner, attending to the rubric, you will not remain enrolled in AP English. NO EXCEPTIONS!
4. The Importance of Being Earnest must be read before the first day of class as there will be an assessment and discussion to follow. You are not required to do any writing or work for it over the summer, simply read and comprehend.

Suggestions:

1. Consider purchasing the summer reading books so you can highlight, underline, and make marginal comments. Used bookstores can offset cost when purchasing. Some are available electronically for free.
2. Read for enjoyment...the more you are exposed to in terms of literature, plays, poetry, essays etc... the better you become at inference and analysis. Attending live performances is equally rewarding and another great experience from which to obtain analytical skills.

Reminders: Summer reading assignments need to be taken seriously. In other words, do not procrastinate! HERE IS WHY:

1. It is weighted heavily grade-wise
2. It helps determine your ability to be in the class as it reflects your retention of the knowledge of writing and analysis up to this point.
3. You will need 85% at the quarter to remain in this class and a preferred 88% at the semester.

I am attaching the rubric (grading scale) that I will be using to determine your grade. Since you have this information it is expected that your work will not contain these errors if you truly want to be enrolled in this college course.

Any assignment submitted for a grade that is not written in the proper MLA format and placed in safe assignment will begin at an automatic 70% scale and the grade will be lowered accordingly based on other errors found.

Proof reading is a key to success. Remember your work is a reflection of you and represents your work ethic and integrity.

Thank you for your interest in AP English.

In Him,

Linda Breeden

English Department Chair
AP & Senior English Teacher
Honors English III Teacher
CSF Adviser

Directions for Essay Prompts: All work will be typewritten on white paper, double-spaced, 12 pt. font in Times New Roman using the current guidelines for the MLA format only. Refer to Purdue Owl on line if you have need of a resource.

Essay #1 Jane Eyre

Throughout Jane Eyre, as Jane herself moves from one physical location to another, the settings in which she finds herself vary markedly. Bronte makes the most of this necessity by carefully arranging those settings to match the differing circumstances Jane finds herself in at each. As Jane grows older and her hopes and dreams change, the settings she finds herself in are perfectly attuned to her state of mind, but her circumstances are always defined by the walls, real and figurative, around her.

Directions: In a three to five page typewritten essay discuss the function of settings in Jane Eyre.

Essay #2 Heart of Darkness

In some works of literature, a character that appears briefly, or does not appear at all, is a significant presence. Using Conrad's novel, Heart of Darkness demonstrate how such a character functions in a work. You may wish to discuss how the character affects action, theme, or the development of other characters. Avoid plot summary.

Directions: This essay must be 3-5 pages as well.

Essay Reminder Sheet AP & Senior English

 Remember these errors can be corrected by proofreading your work!

___=Improper MLA format (includes heading, title, Introduction, body, Conclusion, Works Cited)

___=Not written in the present tense (literature based)

___=spelling, grammar, punctuation errors

___=Use of Weak words

___=Weak or no thesis

___=No in-text documentation (cited in MLA)

___=Use of contractions

___=Use of first/or second point of view

___=Weak content/ ideas not fully developed

___=Improper length of assignment as required

___=This paper is screaming to be proofread!!!

Additional comments for student:

English Literature and Composition
Literary Terms and Techniques

Define and learn the following:

Alliteration

Analogy

Antagonist

Aside

Blank Verse

Climax

Comic Relief

Connotation

Couplet

Denouement

Diction

Dramatic Irony

Echoing

Exposition

Extended Metaphor

Falling Action

Figurative Language

Foreshadowing

Heroic Couplet

Hyperbole

Imagery

Irony

Mood

Motif

Oxymoron

Paradox

Parallelism

Personification

Plot

Protagonist

Prose

Rising Action

Sensory Image

Setting

Simile

Soliloquy

Style

Symbol

Syntax

Theme

Tone

Tragedy

Tragic Hero

Turning point

Verbal Irony